The PREFACE

The Seniors of 1938 present the "Shadow"-the first year book ever published by a senior class of the Andale School. In it you will find nearly all the memories of the school year of 1937-1938. The 1938 graduates are leaving this High School with many regrets and we desire that the succeeding graduating classes may have the best of success.

In Appreciation

To the Board of Education and to the Faculty we express our sincerest gratitude and deepest appreciation. Especially do we render due credit to the Board of Education, who, during their eleven years of constant service in our school, have shown wisdom and understanding. Oftentimes were there difficult problems to confront; yet, these did not hinder our gallant knights of service in providing us with every educational opportunity available.

To them and to the faculty may this book symbolize our timeless appreciation!

Class History

In the early fall of 1935, twenty-one shy little girls and boys made their way to take up a new and strange task, the beginning of their high school career.

As freshmen, we knew very little of the curriculum of a high school besides feeling somewhat bashful; but we soon overcame these minor obstacles. After the painful initiation of our class, which took place the second week of school, we felt advanced in our school life and eagerly we proceeded to work with the best of our abilities.

Our first venture in the social life was the Hallowe'en Party. It proved to be just as much fun for ourselves as for the upper classmen. Naturally after having been successful, we were looking forward to more social events. As freshmen we were ably sponsored by Sister Victorine. We also note that our class members were drawn from the greatest number of different parishes; for example: St. Leo, St. Marks, Colwich, and St. Mary's.

At the beginning of the school term of '35 and '36, we proudly acknowledged the fact that the twenty-one class members from the previous year had resumed studies. This was a record not ever duplicated. Mr. Knoop was our sponsor and it was under his supervision that our most enjoyed educational tour to Hutchinson was taken. This proved one of the outstanding events of the year, as it was spent in visiting and viewing many places which most of us had never seen.

As we entered into our new role as juniors, we eagerly looked forward to many interesting events. Our junior play, "Rose of El Monte" was successfully staged on April 11. The junior-senior banquet, which carried the nautical theme, was very successful as well as enjoyable to the guests and classmates. It was during this year that the idea of taking classes out into the country groves for a picnic was originated under the supervision of Miss Brady.

With our class motto, "To-night We Launch, Where Shall We Anchor," in mind we took up our studies as seniors of '38. As we hoped to make this our most cherished year of high school training,work was taken up more seriously and whole-heartedly. We presented one of the most beautiful Christmas Pageants; and with the proceeds, we started another tradition by presenting the school with a class gift. Ours was a radio. Our class was always well represented in all school activities such as music, sports, and dramatics. Four seniors were chosen as the participants for the Eagle Dramatics Contest held at Wichita. The play "Orville's Big Date" was rated fourth out of the twenty-one plays given.

On April 28, we were the guests of the juniors at the annual junior-senior banquet. Scattered among these activities were numerous Biology tours,of which the two-day trip to Manhattan and Hays was outstanding. Combining our Biology trip and Sneak day, our tour was more than successful. Moreover we are quite proud of the fact that our class has been the first to instigate an educational tour of this nature.

Much to our sorrow, two of our original freshmen, Norbert Focke and Francis Meyer, died during our final school term. Thus far, in the history of our school,our class is the only one which has some of its members deceased. We shall never forget their friendly influence and lovable disposition.

And now we finally reached what we might say the goal, but it might also be termed the beginning--graduation. We seventeen students received our diplomas on the night of May 22,1938. This is only the beginning. Yes! The beginning of where we hope to anchor and be the greatest pride to our Alma Mater--the Andale Rural High School.

At Parting

"Four long years before us did lie,
But all too soon those same years passed by.

With soldierly stature we gaze to the future,
Oh what, oh what shall it be!
Finding not a single answer, we bow
And are happy to recall a grand memory.

Together all hardships we did subdue;
But now, each must paddle his own canoe.

Oh--why worry? Why despair?
We sought this goal, and now we are there.
With a cheerful smile and a thankful heart,
We bid you farewell, for now we must part."

--Marie Klein

MEMORIES

More than can be realized, school life is the building of a treasure house of memories. As one grows older year by year, these grow more precious than material treasures, and at length build the happiness of inactive old age. Four years of association have brought two types of memories: 1.those that make us glow with pride, 2. those that make us glow with the fire-red of embarrassment.

MEMORIES

Memories that Bless

Leadership for good.
Co-operation with the faculty.
Trail-blazing in traditions.

1. Mary Raple's golden quality of silence at class meetings.
2. Wilfred Hommertzheim as Estoban, the Mexican, and as Orville the clever brother of three sisters. Also his popularity with the girls.
3. Ablene Bean's chalk talk on cartoons.
4. Mary Ann Lies' sixth sense at baseball and unreproachable sportsmanship.
5. Louise Wetta's sweet shyness, hard work, and that "heavenly" blue banquet dress.
6. Oscar Peltzer, the villian black and bold in "Rose of El Monte".
7. Frances Martin as she sang her way comedienne fame.
8. Jeanne Fouquet with her "pitching" arm and her ability as a financier.
9. Marie Klein, the real literary artist of her class.
10. Edward Andra, capable senior general, shouldering the troubles of his band.
11. Marie Lies, and her engaging child-like manner as a freshman.
12. Josephine Freund--eyes of real beauty after she broke her glasses and their mischievous twinkle. She starred as the Madonna in the Christmas Pageant.
13. Mike Helten-deep bass voice that thrilled the hearer. He was ideal made-up as the Gypsy King.
14. Bertille Winter,her enthusiasm at learning something new. What fun her foreign correspondence was!
15. Anna Wetta--her complete unselfishness in assuming responsibility and work.
16. John Neises--beautiful work at industrial arts and his infectious grin. His role of Wong in the Junior Play.
17. Marie Doffing--her solo in "Kentucky Babe".

THAT BURN

1. Josephine--boiling eggs
2. Ablene--worry at not knowing her lines perfectly the first night of practice
3. Bertille--falling many times. Her wedding march for the Athletic stunt!
4. John--guilty look when "caught"
5. Marie Doffing--losing her evening library visitor
6. Mary Raple's blushes at "oral theme" time
7. Anna--odd pronunciation of "chores" and ever tilted head
8. Willy--dancing with the dreamy schemy widow in "Old Vienna"
9. Marie Lies--"and she always chewed her gum" even during the contest play!
10. Jeanne--cats and snakes for her class sponsor
11. Louise--fear near to tears at not being perfect in all her work during her freshman year
12. Marie Klein--rumors of being in an accident breaking out at school
13. Frances--fumble at words in giving talks
14. Mike--any test-any time! and chasing fires with empty extinguishers--the darling!
15. Oscar--sleeping through class and being locked in the laboratory during noon-hour
16. Edward--the response to the juniors at the banquet
17. Mary Ann--being tardy because she had to walk to school because she refused to get up when called

Blessed even are memories that burn!

MUSIC NOTES

A. H. S.'s music departments have gone places and done things. Included in these departments are an orchestra directed by Mr. Jacques, a girls' and boys' glee club, and a sextette, all directed by Mr.Stucky, a graduate of Bethel College at Newton. The orchestra group has sectional and group practices on Monday with group practices on each Tuesday and Thursday. The girls' glee club has rehearsals each day while the boys practice on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

The three highlights in the music schedule in order of their appearance were:

First, the operetta, "In Old Vienna" was presented quite successfully on February 27 and 28. This colorful comic operetta had a cast of twelve and choruses of Vienese maids, burgers, gypsies, and tourists.

Next the music students worked on their selections entered in the County Music Festival held March 29. The orchestra tied with the sextette for first place among our groups. The selections by the orchestra were "Operatic Stars", "Finlandia", and "Overture Gems." The girls' sextette sang "Kentucky Babe" and "Rockin Time." The girls' glee club's numbers were "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming" and "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water."

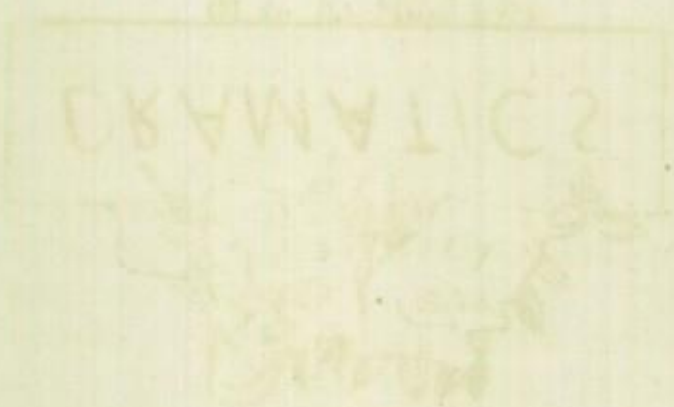
Last but not least was our entry into the district music festival held on April 13. The glee club and sextette sang the selections as named before. Besides this the solo "Lullaby" by Mozart was sung by Bertille Winter.

Our ratings were: Girls' Glee Club, superior; Sextette, good; Solo, excellent.

The last music affair was the Boys' Quartette's song, "Good-bye" which they presented at the Commencement.

This Year was heavily sprinkled with dramatic productions. One was hardly finished when another was started. The first was a contest play entitled "Orville's Big Date." This was entered at the Wichita Eagle Yuletide Festival where we tied for fourth place. The cast included Wilfred Hommertzheim as Orville, Marie Lies as Vivian, Marie Doffing as Ethel, and Bertille Winter as Beatrice.

The best Christmas program ever given was presented by the seniors of '38. This program consisted of three one-act plays which included, "Midnight Clear,""Orville's Big Date," "Christmas Pageant". The cast of "Midnight Clear" included: Reddy---Louise Wetta; Limpy--Anna Wetta; Granny---Ablene Bean; Angel--Mary Raple; Cop's Angel--Marie Klein; Cop--Edward Andra. The cast of "Orville's Big Date" has been mentioned above. The cast of the "Christmas Pageant" included Josephine Freund as the Virgin; Edward Andra as Joseph; Bertille Winter as Angel Gabriel; Wilfred Hommertzheim, Mike Helten, and Oscar Peltzer as the Three Kings; Marie Lies as the reader; John Neises as leader of the shepherds.The remainder of the class participated as angels and shepherds. Under the direction of Mr. Stucky the angels rendered quite heavenly music.



The juniors created a news item when they presented "Behind the News", a three-act comedy, for their Junior play. We "see by the paper" that there are some up and coming junior dramatic stars. The cast for this production was Elmer Scott----Herman Peltzer; Petunia Blossom---Alfred Bergkamp; Ruth Roberts--Emma Hilger; Jane Cooper---Jeanette Reichenberger; Joe Hudson-----Max Kocour; Mrs. Small------Betty Seiwert; Sam Barnet---Leo Bugner; Officer---Nick Strunk.

The one-act play "Who Gets the Car Tonight" was entered at the Valley Center Play Contest. It went off with a rah! It rated "good" along with all the rest of the plays entered. Even though they all played their parts very well, Max Kocour was the only actor who was rated individually. The cast: Mr. Jones--Wilfred Hommertzheim;Mrs. Jones---Bertille Winter; Mary---Marie Lies Paul---Max Kocour; Jack---Leo Bugner.

Last but not least of the dramatic productions was the all school play entitled "Spring Fever". This clever comedy of Mother and home life was particularly appropriate since the date of production was Mother's Day.

The cast: Jacky Howard--Leo Wetta; Price Max Kocour; Ray Butler-Alphonse Schaplowsky Mr.Knight--Wilfred Hommertzheim; Peggy-Lorraine Horsch; Bertha---Jeanette Reichenberger; Eulalie Barnes--Helen Winter; Donna Howards---Marie Doffing; Spring Byington---Marie Lies; Tessie---Mathilda Lies.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Social affairs are quite an important factor in making the school term a pleasant and educational one. Probably the student has forgotten about some of these, yet, when these are brought to mind, he will recall that he had a "swell" time.

To begin with, as usual, our very first social event was the freshmen initiation, which we know the freshmen will never forget. On Sept. 18, at 8 o'clock the poor freshmen were forced to go through the annual routine of so-called torture. The program consisted of tricks and stunts played on them, games, dancing, and the serving of refreshments. This ended this year's version of initiation, and twenty-four boys and girls became full-fledged members of our student body.

Several weeks later, on Oct. 29, the seniors with their advisor, Miss Arensdorf, sponsored a Hallowe'en party. The auditorium was artfully arranged with such decorations as jack-o-lanterns, black cats, witches, and autumn leaves, all suggestive of the season. For the first time in the history of our school, the guests attended the party in costumes. Emma Lee Hilger was selected as the prettiest costumed, and Harold Orth, as the funniest.

The Christmas Party, Dec. 22 was probably the most enjoyable and appreciated evening during the year. It was wholly in charge of the faculty. Mr. Knoop and Mr. Stucky furnished the entertainment; Sister Victorine and Sister Silveria, the decorations; Miss Arensdorf, the lunch; and Mr. Brennan, general supervisor. It was at this occasion that the seniors presented a radio to the school. Santa Claus came in person and every student, good or bad, was fortunate to receive a gift from him.

The sophisticated juniors showed a fraction of one of their true characteristics, that of being independent, on January 16, by having a skating party. The all but warm "moonlit" night was spent at "Hidden Lake", southwest of Andale. From several reports as to the happenings at the party, there were many amusing and many painful antics. Mr. Stucky's acrobatics featured the event.

Imagine the great thrill we received when we entered the annual Junior-Senior Banquet Hall on the evening of April 28. We had been kept in such long suspense about what the theme was to be that we could hardly wait. The hall was beautifully and cleverly decorated with the most popular character "Snow White" and her "Seven Dwarfs". A large castle surrounded by wishing wells, forest scenes, dwarfs' huts, and smaller castles centered the auditorium. Victrola music from the motion picture added to the effectiveness of the theme. The president of the junior class, Helen Winter, was toastmistress. After the most enjoyable program, favors were drawn by all from the wishing well and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

The all but cool afternoon of May 11 proved to be just the day for the high school students to close their social affairs for the year. At twelve noon all got into cars and with lots of laughter and noise went out to Albert Winter's Grove where the annual Knights' of Columbus Picnic was in session. A delicious and bountiful basket lunch followed during which snappy numbers were played by the Andale High School Band. During the afternoon a most interesting field meet of races and ball games was held.

FOOTBALL

After one year of delay and through the efforts of Mr. Knoop, coach, football has again come back to our school as the leading sport. At the beginning of the season, twenty-two players reported for practice. This was indeed a splendid number to have out, and they all helped greatly in making the season a success. Considering their inexperience the summary is good.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The girls' softball team, under the leadership of Miss Arensdorf had much fun. Although they played only four games, which were with St. John's Academy, they won two, lost one, and tied one.
